

TWO faculty openings in psychology: BIOPSYCHOLOGY or COUNSELING/CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Position 1: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Psychology

Position 2: 1-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Psychology

The Department of Psychology invites applications for two faculty positions, specializing in either BIOPSYCHOLOGY or COUNSELING/CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY, beginning August 2020. Preference will be given to candidates with a PhD in psychology or a related field at the time of appointment. Excellent teaching and mentoring of students are the highest priorities of the College. The successful candidate will be an active scholar interested in conducting research in collaboration with undergraduate students. Experience with the liberal arts is highly desired.

Position 1. Tenure-track assistant professor in psychology.

Position 2. A one-year visiting assistant professor in psychology.

Primary responsibilities include teaching courses in the candidate's area of specialization (biopsychology or counseling/clinical psychology) as well as other courses required for the major, such as General Psychology and Introduction to Psychological Science. Standard annual teaching load for both positions is 21 credits (3:1:3), which includes one course in our intensive January term. For information on the department's offerings and current faculty, see <http://www.collegeofidaho.edu/psychology>. The shape of the psychology major follows the APA guidelines for the undergraduate psychology major, including basic courses in four specific domains: biological, developmental, cognitive, and social.

Review of applications will begin OCTOBER 30 and continue until the positions are filled. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy that clearly articulates a commitment to liberal arts education, evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of research interests, and 3 letters of recommendation. At least one letter must address teaching.

Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from the College.

Send materials to HR@collegeofidaho.edu (identify as psychology tenure-track search and/or psychology visiting search). If you wish to be considered for both positions, please indicate so in your cover letter and email to HR. Additional information may be requested of qualified candidates as we move through the applicant review process.
